We are delighted that you are here today! We hope you will find us an affirming, uplifting, and committed family of faith. Here we work to make everyone, without any exceptions, to feel accepted, inspired, and encouraged in their spiritual journey. In dialogue, we seek to understand. In encouragement, we seek to heal. In all things we yearn to live by love, for peace, with joy. This is a place where your intellect will be challenged, your heart will be nurtured, and your spirit refreshed. Varying beliefs are expressed openly and freely, and your doubts will not be suppressed. We trust that we are all, every person and part of creation, continuing to be blessed by God's grace; and that in community we can help each other to see this grace alive in our lives and relationships. We hope to share our gifts with you, even as we pray that you will want to share your gifts with us. Whoever you are and wherever you may be in your life's journey, we invite you to be a part of our lives and our spiritual home. Welcome!

“BY THE TENDER MERCY OF OUR GOD,
THE DAWN FROM ON HIGH WILL BREAK UPON US,
TO GIVE LIGHT TO THOSE WHO SIT IN DARKNESS

Lighting the Light of Christ

Pastor Bret

Christ is a True Light to the world! In Christ there is no darkness, but only the light that shines through the darkness. We are called by Christ to walk in the light of God's love, and to let that light shine through us that it might brighten our path and lead us to that place where we are at peace with God and all of God's creatures.

We come on this holy night to search through the darkness in our lives in hopes of coming to the Light. May each of us on this Christmas Eve find the True Light that comes from God, and may we share that Light with each other and pass it on to all whom we meet.

“And God said, ‘Let there be light.’ And there was light. And God saw that the light was good.”

--- Genesis 1.3-4a

*Centering Our Souls (Read responsively)

Tina Aumiller

O Loving, Creator God, we gather to remember the birth of the holy infant, Jesus, who was a gleaming beacon to point the way out of spiritual darkness, and a burning ember in our consciences to prod us to virtuous action.

Let the guiding star of hope light our hearts and minds so that we may faithfully be brilliant rays of love and peace that shine on all whom we meet. Help us to walk joyfully together as your children, and as each other’s brothers and sisters.

May we learn to accept each other's foibles, encourage understanding of our differences, forgive each other's indiscretions, inspire compassionate thoughts and actions, and nurture friendships with all who are not yet our friends.

May this be our Christmas gift to You, to each other, and to ourselves. Blessings be.

Collective Christmas Prayer

We await the birth of new life into the world, and into our lives. On this Christmas Eve, our hearts are warmed by the hope and promise of Christ’s incarnation. And our spirits are inspired by the love and peace which beckons us so silently and gently. We are encouraged to let your image live ever more fully in us so that we might help justice to arise in the lowliest of circumstances, and that we may spread kindness and gentleness to all whom we meet – not only on this night and in the year to come, but for all our lives long.

We are thankful for Jesus’ birth, life, and teachings and what they mean to us...for prospects of peace in the world...for confidence in the power of love...for those who generously give...for those who graciously receive...and for the Church that nurtures us in faith.

Nurture our hearts to offer a hospitality that welcomes all your children. Especially we pray for -- those who have not felt your good news...the sick and suffering...those who know no laughter, only tears...those who govern and lead...those enslaved by tyranny...prisoners of addiction or abuse...those persecuted for being peacemakers...and the Church as a refuge for those in need. May we help make it so.

The Gospel Announcement of the Advent of the Light

Lois Bair

“The true light, which enlightens everyone, was coming into the world. What has come into being in him was life, and the life was the light of all people. The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness did not overcome it.”

--- John 1.9, 3c-5

Song of Christ’s Promised Coming

“Come, O Long-Expected Jesus”

Music: Rowland H. Prichard, 1830; Tune: Hyfrydol Words: Charles Wesley, 1744; vs. 1, alt.; Bret S. Myers, 12/12/2017, vs. 2

1) Come, O long expected Jesus, born to set all people free. From our fears and sins release us; grant us your true liberty. Israel’s strength and consolation, hope to all the earth impart. Dear desire of every nation, joy of every longing heart.

2) Born to liberate all people, from your birth you let love reign! Born that peace might live forever, in our hearts so all will gain! By God’s spirit prompting justice work in all our lives each day; that we may by love’s true kindness, build a home for peace to stay.

The Prophecy Concerning the Light

Kees Brandse

“The people who walked in darkness have seen a great light; those who lived in a land of deep darkness – on them light has shined. For a child has been born for us, a son given to us; authority rests upon his shoulders; and he is named Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace. His authority shall grow continually, and there shall be endless peace.”

Tune: Kings of Orient Words/Music: John H. Hopkins, Jr., 1857

We three kings of Orient are; bearing gifts we traverse afar, field and fountain, moor and mountain, following yonder star.

Chorus: O, star of wonder, star of light, star with royal beauty bright, westward leading, still proceeding, guide us to your perfect light.

Frankincense to offer have I; incense owns a Deity nigh; prayer and praising, voices raising, worshiping God on high.

A Light to be Shared

Kate Gerhart

God's Word is a lamp unto our feet and a light unto our path. Whenever we respond to God's Word and bear testimony as to how it has influenced our lives, we become God's lights of the world. God has given us "Love's Pure Light". Christ Jesus told us to share that light with one another, reminding us not to hide our light under a bushel basket but to let it shine out through our days and nights, from our valleys and from our mountaintops. We share that light through both our attitudes and our actions. Let us act with generosity and an attitude of joy as we bring light to a world in need by our offerings.

Reflections & the Singing of the Carols of Christmas

Louise Harris

All people seek to be free from that which imprisons their souls and alienates them from that which they love. And so the hope of liberation is always a present and future reality.

“O Come, O Come, Emmanuel”

#116, vss. 1, 7

Jim Welsh

In the midnights of our lives, we can lay with the world in solemn stillness as we listen for a song of the angels that whispers peace to us. When we have let peace penetrate the darkness of our lives, we can be witnesses of that peace to others as we are inspired to promote good will between all peoples.

“It Came Upon the Midnight Clear”

In some of the most unseemly places, great things can happen. In silence, we are able to receive the wondrous gifts that cannot be perceived in the busyness of our lives.

“O Little Town of Bethlehem”

#133, vss. 1, 3

Lois Bair

Grace is all around us. When we pause to meditate on what is available to us without cost, our hearts are warmed. We are filled with awe at the grandeur of God's love for us. And when we consider how well we are doing at being agents of God's love in this world, we see the need for personal humility. We offer praise for that which is mightier than ourselves. We become connected to the divine, and that which is holy abides in us -- through our days, and through our nights.

“O Holy Night”

Soloist: Mike Dolan

Kees Brandse

That which is holy is always among us. We often do not recognize the image of God in our neighbor because of our preconceptions of what we picture God to be. It is hard sometimes for us to imagine God being revealed in those who do not have the "right" appearance or who reside in a place that is unseemly. Sometimes only those as lowly as shepherds, or those with the understanding of wise men, are able to see the divine in places like a livestock stable. Like them, we need to train ourselves to look beyond the external conditions to see the beauty that lies within.

“What Child Is This”

#148, vss. 1-2

Tsultrim Datso

All of creation is a gift to us, and we are a gift to all of creation. God created us all so that we might live in harmony together, seeing the beauty of God's grace in each and every living thing. The lessons we can learn from others include the rest of creation, not simply the rest of humanity. We remember God's presence in all things as we recall the “friendly beasts” in that stable long ago.

“Jesus, Our Brother, Strong and Good”

#138, vss. 1-3, 6

Brent Frank

The dream of being reconciled with all humanity and with all creatures would be impossible without the grace of God. But through God, all things are possible. When we are reconciled with one another and all the earth, we then become truly reconciled with God. God's peace will then reign in every heart and in every land. Light and life will be the blessing of us all, and we shall rise with healing with Christ who came to give us this second birth.

Kate Gerhart

The joy we celebrate at the birth of Christ in the world and in our hearts can be overwhelming – making us feel that all of heaven and nature sings with us of the anticipated coming of peace, justice, love, and joy forevermore. What could be more wonderful! Our hearts, minds, and souls resound together with all creation to repeat the sounding joy!

Sharing the Light of Christ: Letting Our Light Shine

Louise Harris

Christ was born in the infant, Jesus. And that child whose birth we remember on this evening grew up to show the world the way to salvation...becoming a light to the world. Christ lived in Jesus, and Christ can live in us. Christ inspires our hope, nurtures our faith, encourages our love, enkindles our peace, and sustains our joy. Christ has shown us the Way, the Truth, and the Life. Christ gives light in the midst of darkness, and passes that light on to us so that we may be a shining light in the night...a light of hope, a light of faith, a light of love, a light of peace, and a light of joy - - for all the world to see.

Pastor Bret

When we are lit by love’s pure light, we respond with acts of generosity and spiritual grace. Our individual lights shine like flames of a candle. But when we shine together as a community of the faithful, our collective light is able to radiate like a lighthouse’s beacon to a world in need. Let us as that community affirm our commitment to help heal a world in need of Christ’s light of love as we let our lights shine.

(As we sing the following hymn, the pastor takes the flame from the Christ Candle and lights the candle of the ushers, who then lights the candle of the next person, and so on, until everyone’s candle is lit. Please tip only unlit candles to receive the flame from those lit.)

Hymn of Love’s Pure Light

“Silent Night, Holy Night”

Tune: Stille Nacht by Franz Gruber; Words: vss. 1-3, Joseph Mohr; vss. 4-8, Bret S. Myers

1) Silent night, holy night, all is calm, all is bright; round yon virgin mother and child. Holy infant, so tender and mild, sleep in heavenly peace, sleep in heavenly peace.

2) Silent night, holy night, shepherds quake at the sight; glories stream from heaven afar, heavenly hosts sing Alleluia; Christ the Savior is born, Christ the Savior is born.

3) Silent night holy night, Child of God, love's pure light; radiant beams from thy holy face, with the dawn of redeeming grace, Jesus, Lord, at thy birth, Jesus, Lord, at thy birth.

4) Silent night, holy night, cast your glow, on our soul; make us ready to do your will, fearless of all that tempts us still, heal our wounds from within, heal our wounds from within.

5) Silent night, holy night, virtuous life, gives us light; we can forgive the one who've done wrong, with compassion oh so strong; this, the gift of God's grace, give the gift of God's grace.

6) Silent night, holy night, beauty lives, Spirit gives; grateful we give to those in need, so they need not continue to plead; justice, mercy, and care, Christ asks us kindness to dare.

7) Silent night, holy night, Earth awakes, for our sakes; creatures all in harmony, interdependent through history; made to live and let be, by this we all can be free.

8) Silent night, holy night, Christ is here, joy is near; sing with hope from the depth of your heart, faith that nothing can tear us apart; love's a gift of God's grace, peace is a gift of God's grace.

Committing Your Life to the One True Light

Jim Welsh

"It is the God who said, 'Let light shine out of darkness,' who has shone in our hearts to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ."

--- II Corinthians 4.6

Jim Welsh

God has shone the light of love and peace upon each of our hearts and minds this blessed evening. Do not let that light fade as Christmas Eve turns to Christmas Day, and as Christmas Day turns to the new year, and as the new year turns to all the years to come. God's gift of love to the world is the greatest gift we could ever receive...and the greatest we could ever give. It is what makes life glorious and meaningful.

Pastor Bret

The One True light is God...and God is Love...and we are each made in the image of God – Christian, Jew, Muslim, Hindu, Buddhist, Jain, Sikh, Taoist, Confucian, Shinto, all other believers and also every unbeliever. We, like the Christ child, are born into this world for the same purpose: to love and be loved, so that the whole world might be filled with the love of God. We are to love God, ourselves, our families, our friends, our acquaintances, and even our enemies. We are to love men, women, children, abled & disabled, gays & straights, warriors & peacemakers, and sinners & saints. We are to love people of all colors, of all nationalities, of all ethnic backgrounds. We are to love all creatures on this blessed earth, and even love all creation – animate, or inanimate. We are called to love – not in part, but wholly...not just to some, but to all...not just with our own strength and will-power, but with that which God gives us when we truly trust in the power of God living through us.

Jim Welsh

In an age when we find it increasingly difficult to keep commitments, and troubling to even consider making commitments, let us not turn away from God's call to make and keep a commitment to live for the very purpose of why we are here. God is speaking to each one of us to make a deeper commitment to let the light of love be our guide throughout our daily lives -- in all that we perceive, think, feel, say, and do.

Pastor Bret

Please respond now to God's attempt to let that light of love be born in you. Commit your life to God's Loving Light. As you now extinguish the flame from the candle in your hands, let the Light of Christ light the candle in your heart so that you may in truth and life go forth with hope, faith, love, peace, and joy.

Benediction

Pastor Bret

May Christ be born in you anew as you go forth in peace with love's pure light shining brightly. May it dispel the darkness in your own life, and be a beacon for others to follow as they get to know the beauty of the divine Christ child through you and in you. Amen

For Your Faith & Sustenance

"You are the light of the world. A city built on a hill cannot be hid. No one after lighting a lamp puts it under the bushel basket, but on the lampstand, and it gives light to all in the house. In the same way, let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to your Creator in heaven."

--- Matthew 5.14-16

God's gift of Christ reveals to us that God not only is present with us, but that God walks beside us and guides us on our journey. As dark as our individual journeys may get, they can be lit not by the matchlight of how we try to manipulate the world around us, but by the sunlight of our trust in God's grace to keep us on the honorable and virtuous path.

--- Rev. Bret S. Myers

This evening we thank: Mark Ferraguto, organist; Soloist: Mike Dolan, the Readers as noted throughout; Ushers: Larry Bair and Jean Frank; and especially--You, for celebrating the birth of the Light of the World!

Merry Christmas!
