Out of the Cold, Overnight

Tomorrow night, we will begin our two weeks of hosting Out of the Cold for overnight guests; this includes an evening meal and breakfast.

We will need dinner (casseroles, salads, desserts, etc.) and breakfast (microwave sandwiches, bagels, etc.) items.

In addition, there is a need for additional help with unloading/loading the supply truck and a couple of other roles.

Information & sign up sheets on the table in the Gathering Space so you can indicate what you can provide--and thanks in advance for your willingness to help.

Soichi Watanabe is the artist whose work is featured on today's Order of Worship.

He is a resident of Japan, graduated in 1982 from the Ochanomizu Art School in Tokyo, and an economics degree from Tohoku Gakuin University in 1972.

Currently teaching at a private art school he started in 1982, he and his wife work together to help others experience the joy of art.

Soichi realized that he was both “stubborn and self-centered” after reading Mark in a home bible study. He recalls that “the richness of the biblical world overwhelmed me and at the same time tortured me.” He submitted to the Lord shortly thereafter at an evening worship service.

“I really heard a voice telling me to accept the salvation of Jesus on the cross and to follow him,” he recalls.

From his art book Jesus Walking With Us (2004),

“I realize that [my works] are my own humble responses to God’s calling in my life... The images are often given to me through the words of God at worship services on Sundays and during my daily devotion. I have the earnest hope that I will go on painting to praise the Lord.”

We Need You!

The Fellowship Hour in Romig Hall following worship is a chance to get to know better the people sharing the pews with you and guests who may join us.

(And, if you are able to come, invite guests you might meet that day to join you in fellowship.)

We can always use help in providing the food that is offered, so please sign up on the sheet in the Gathering Space if you can help in that way or just by helping with serving and cleaning up.
